Philip. A grand name is it not? Why, flicking at random through the dusty pages of history one is astonished at how often one encounters a famous personage called Philip. Prince Philip - royal personage who was born on a snooker table in Greece! Sir Philip Collins - celebrated musicologist! Captain Mark Phillips - horseman extraordinaire and heir to a sausage fortune! Mackenzie Philips - famous American starlet who once poured a bowl of spaghetti over the head of Eddie Van Halen's wife! And, of course, Philips - noted manufacturers of magnificent electronic devices.

But why, you ask, are we telling you all this? Well, this happens to be International People Called Philip Fortnight, actually, and to commemorate it we've decided to give away some excruciatingly brilliant prizes. We tried to get the actual spaghetti that was poured over the head of Eddie Van Halen's wife, but plumped instead for an unbelievably swish and terrifically LOUD (70 Watts) Philips ghetto blaster. It's got knobs and everything, and the supremely lucky winner will also get a microphone, a pair of headphones and a pack of 12 cassettes thrown in.

Then there's the two second prizes of terrifically swish but not quite so LOUD (10 Watts) ghetto blasters! Phew-er!

Third prizes? But of course, mes petits: three ruddy superlative and almost as swish...ghetto blasters! Runners-up prizes? No problem, buckaroos. 30 personal stereo thingies with auto-reverse facility.

More runners-up prizes? Yep: 50 12" copies of Automation's single "Theme From Electro Rock" - Electro Rock being a startling new film all about funky "hep" cats dancing about with...Philips Ghetto blasters!!

So, finally, the question. Which famous Philip (or Phil) featured on the following hit singles? a) "Together in Electric Dreams" b) "Out In The Fields" c) "Easy Lover".

Answers on a postcard or the back of an envelope to Smash Hits/Philips Competition, 14 Holkham Road, Orton Southgate, Peterborough PE2 0YJ. Get them here by September 10.

Loose Bruce And The Street Elite from the Electro Rock film. (Lots of bodypoppin', breakdancin', rappin', ghetto blastin'; etc.)
