

CF 100

A two in one unit from SONY at a breakthrough price. Housed in this attractive cabinet is a quality cassette recorder plus a VHF/MW radio. A flick of a switch selects either radio or cassette playback and, of course, any programme from the radio section can be directly fed into the cassette recorder so the chance is never missed of recording a favourite programme—wherever you may be. Other features from this compact portable model include piano key controls, built in telescopic aerial for VHF radio, tone control, battery/mains operation, and supplied accessories include microphone and cassette.

In this model SONY has brought together the cassette recorder and the portable VHF/MW radio in one—and it's a winning combination. If a radio programme catches your attention, just press a button and the broadcast is fed straight into the cassette recorder section—no plugs, no fuss, no delay. SONY-O-MATIC automatic recording control makes recording simplicity itself, and volume is continuously variable to monitor sound during recording. Model CF 200 will operate from torch batteries or AC mains and is supplied complete with microphone, C-30 cassette and mains lead. This cassette radio is 4 lb. 9 oz. of versatility!

CF 300

Model CF 300 is both an easy to operate cassette tape recorder and a sensitive VHF/MW radio all in one portable package. VHF/MW radio broadcasts can be captured on cassette tape with a flick of a switch and SONY's exclusive built-in electret condenser microphone will pick up 'live' sounds with amazing fidelity. Whilst recording, volume is continuously variable for monitoring, but is independent of recording level, which is automatically controlled. A choice of four power sources is available, torch battery, re-chargeable battery pack, car/boat battery or AC mains. Other outstanding features include 'review' facility, giving instant rewind and playback with one control—ideal for dictation, music studies, etc., AFC switch, tone control and telescopic antenna. Model CF 300 is a top performer—try one, you owe it to yourself!

CF 400L

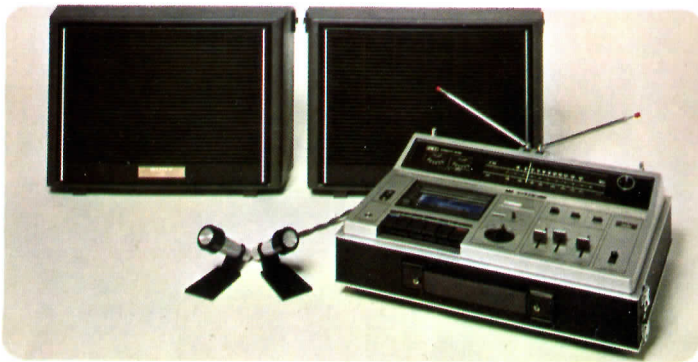

The ultimate in cassette radio from SONY. Model CF 400L is a three wave band (VHF, LW, MW) radio combined with a sensitive mono cassette recorder in one attractively styled unit. Features which put this model in a class of its own include built-in electret condenser microphone, continuously adjustable monitor volume, 'cue' and 'review' buttons, rich 1.5W output, SONY-O-MATIC record level, auto shut off mechanism which operates at the end of tape in both record and playback modes, AFC switch and a choice of four power sources, 4 torch batteries, optional re-chargeable battery, car battery (with DCC 126) or AC mains. Model CF 400L the ready to go high performance and versatile unit for the man on the move.

...a cassette for every occasion

Whatever your choice, battery or mains, stereo or mono, SONY has a cassette recorder to suit your preference and your pocket. All SONY cassette recorders are built to the exacting standards that have made them world leaders in electronics, so simply clip in a cassette and away you go!

CF 610 and CF 620

Now you can listen to quality stereo on cassette tape or tune into VHF stereo and VHF/MW broadcasts, transferring them direct on to tape. This system can also form the basis of your home stereo unit by connecting turntable, tape deck or microphone. Other features include tape select switch for the use of either standard or chromium dioxide cassettes, slide controls on record volume and tone, SONY-O-MATIC automatic record level and dipole aerial. Available in black leatherette finish with lid integrated speakers (CF 610) and smart wooden cabinet with speakers in matching finish for separate mounting (CF 620).
